ELVIS SANTANA and

on behalf of themselves, FLSA Collective Plaintiffs and Class Members,

Case No.: 13-CV-1628

Plaintiffs,

FIRST AMENDED

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

FISHLEGS LLC,
GIOCO RESTAURANT CORP.,
DAVID BURKE 59 CORP.,
6 GRAND LLC,
RIDGE ROAD RESTAURANT, LLC,
DAVID BURKE LLC,
JOHN DOE CORP. (together the
"Corporate Defendants"),
DAVID BURKE and JEFFREY A. CITRON,

Defendants.

Plaintiffs, ELVIS SANTANA and MIGUEL JAIME-DORANTES (each a "Named Plaintiff" and collectively the "Named Plaintiffs"), allege, on behalf of themselves and others similarly situated as follows:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. Named Plaintiff ELVIS SANTANA worked in the positions of busboy and barback for Defendants, at Defendants' "Fishtail" restaurant located at 135 East 62nd Street, New York, NY 10065.

2. Named Plaintiff MIGUEL JAIME-DORANTES worked in the position of line cook for Defendants, at Defendants' "David Burke Townhouse" restaurant located at 133 E. 61st Street, New York, NY 10065.

3. Pursuant to the Fair Labor Standards Act ("FLSA"), 29 U.S.C. § 216(b), the Named Plaintiffs bring this action for (1) unpaid minimum wages (2) unpaid overtime pay and (3) unpaid compensation due to time shaving, on behalf of themselves and all other similarly situated current and former employees nationwide who work or worked as non-exempt employees, including cooks, dish washers, food preparers, porters, waiters, busboys, runners, barbacks and bartenders, in the past six years ("Covered Employees") at any of the David Burke Restaurants (defined below).

4. In addition to nationwide FLSA claims, the Named Plaintiffs also bring claims under the laws of New York on behalf of themselves and all Covered Employees, who worked in the State of New York, pursuant to Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, to remedy violations of New York Labor Law, Article 19 §§ 650 et. seq., and the supporting New York State Department of Labor Regulations (together, "NYLL").

5. For at least six years prior to the filing of this Complaint, Defendants have willfully committed widespread violations of the FLSA and New York state laws by failing to pay Covered Employees (1) unpaid minimum wages, (2) unpaid overtime and (3) unpaid compensation for all hours worked due to a policy of time shaving.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

6. This Court has original jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331, this action being brought under the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). Original jurisdiction exists over all claims in this action under the Class Action Fairness Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d). This is a putative class action in which: (1) there are 100 or more members in the Named Plaintiff's proposed class; (2) at least some members of the proposed class have a different citizenship from Defendants; and (3) the claims of the proposed class members exceed $5,000,000.00 in the aggregate.

7. In addition, this Court has jurisdiction over this controversy pursuant to 29 U.S.C. §216(b), 28 U.S.C. § 1337 and 1343, and has supplemental jurisdiction over Plaintiffs' state law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1367 because those claims derive from a common nucleus of operative fact.

8. The Court is empowered to issue a declaratory judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202.

9. Venue is proper in the Southern District of New York pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391, because Plaintiff and certain Defendants reside in this district and because a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims occurred in this district.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

15. In or about November 2008, Named Plaintiff SANTANA, was hired by Defendants to work as a busboy and barback at Defendants' "Fishtail" restaurant located at 135 East 62nd Street, New York, NY. From the commencement of his employment to March 2009, Named Plaintiff SANTANA worked as a busboy. From in or about March 2009 to the end of his employment, Named Plaintiff SANTANA worked as a barback. During his employment by Defendants, Named Plaintiff SANTANA was required to travel to the other David Burke Restaurants to pick up merchandise and supplies.

16. Named Plaintiff SANTANA worked for Defendants until on or about April 2009.

17. During Named Plaintiff SANTANA's employment by Defendants, he generally worked 43 hours per week. Specifically, Named Plaintiff SANTANA generally worked for 8.5 hours per day, for five days per week. Named Plaintiff SANTANA was paid an hourly rate of $4.60 per hour. Named Plaintiff SANTANA was never paid when he worked in excess of his scheduled hours. He typically worked two to three hours per week in excess of his scheduled hours. Similarly Nationwide FLSA Collective Class and New York Rule 23 Class members did not receive compensation for hours worked in excess of their scheduled hours.

18. Named Plaintiff SANTANA's paystubs did not accurately reflect his working hours. At all times, Named Plaintiff SANTANA was required to wear a uniform mandated by Defendants. When he began his shift, Named Plaintiff SANTANA was not allowed to punch his time clock until he finished changing into his uniform. He was also forced to punch out before he changed out of his uniform at the end of his shift. Such policy of time shaving was prevalent at each of the David Burke Restaurants and applied to all Covered Employees. Because of Defendants' policy of time shaving, Named Plaintiff, Nationwide FLSA Collective Class and New York Rule 23 Class members also did not properly receive their overtime premium because the hours worked as reflected in the paystubs were incorrect.

19. In or about June 2012, Named Plaintiff JAIME-DORANTES was hired by Defendants to work as a line cook at Defendants' "David Burke Townhouse" restaurant located at 133 East 61st Street, New York, NY 10065.

20. Named Plaintiff JAIME-DORANTES worked for Defendants until October 2012. Named Plaintiff JAIME-DORANTES' regular schedule was for forty (40) hours per week during his employment with Defendants. He worked eight hours per day, five days per week. He was paid an hourly rate of $13.00 per hour. At least twice per week (or more depending on business) Plaintiff JAIME-DORANTES would work approximately one half hour to one hour past his regular daily schedule but would never be compensated for such time.

21. On numerous occasions, when David Burke Townhouse was not crowded, Named Plaintiff JAIME-DORANTES would arrive early only to be told to go home. At no time did he receive "call-in pay" or any other type of compensation. He observed that other employees were subject to the same practice.

22. Named Plaintiff JAIME-DORANTES's paystubs did not accurately reflect his working hours. At all times Plaintiff JAIME-DORANTES would utilize a time-clock to record how many hours he worked per week. On several occasions, he observed his manager adjust the amount of time recorded so that it would appear as though he worked less than forty hours per week. The general policy set by Defendants for all David Burke Restaurants was that employees were only paid for their scheduled work hours and not for actual hours worked.

23. Because of Defendants' policy of time shaving, Named Plaintiffs, Nationwide FLSA Collective Class and New York Rule 23 Class members did not properly receive their wages for all hours worked or their proper overtime premium.

24. Defendants knowingly and willfully operated their business with a policy of not paying the lawful minimum wage to the Named Plaintiff SANTANA, and members of the Nationwide FLSA Collective Class and the members of the New York Rule 23 Class that were tipped employees. Defendants were not entitled to take any tip credit under the FLSA and NYLL, because they (i) failed to properly provide notice to all tipped employees that Defendants were taking a tip credit in violation of the NYLL, (ii) failed to provide proper wage statements informing tipped employees of the amount of tip credit taken for each payment period in violation of the NYLL, and (iii) caused tipped employees to engage in non-tipped duties exceeding 20% of each workday in violation of NYLL.

25. Named Plaintiffs retained Lee Litigation Group, PLLC to represent them and other employees similarly situated in this litigation and have agreed to pay the firm a reasonable fee for its services.

26. On February 1, 2013, Named Plaintiffs' counsel received a call from Prudence Pitter of David Burke Restaurant Group stating that Defendants had sent a check to Named Plaintiff SANTANA to settle this dispute. Defendants' counsel had received the undersigned's demand letter and with full knowledge that the Named Plaintiff SANTANA was represented by counsel and attempted to usurp the judicial process by communicating with, and settling this dispute with the Named Plaintiff SANTANA directly, without Named Plaintiff SANTANA's counsel's, or the Court's knowledge or approval. Named Plaintiff SANTANA, however, to the best of his knowledge, has not received any such alleged check or any payment from Defendants.

FLSA COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

27. The Named Plaintiffs bring the first claim for relief as a collective action pursuant to FLSA Section 16(b), 29 U.S.C. § 216(b), on behalf of all Covered Employees who worked for Defendants at any of the David Burke Restaurants, at any time six years prior to the filing of this Complaint ("Nationwide FLSA Collective Class"). Upon information and belief, Defendants knowingly failed to pay the Named Plaintiff and the Nationwide FLSA Collective Class (i) the lawful federal minimum wage for each hour worked and suffered and permitted the Named Plaintiffs and the Nationwide FLSA Collective Class to work more than forty hours per week, (ii) proper overtime compensation for all hours worked beyond forty per week and (iii) compensation for off the clock work.

28. Defendants' unlawful conduct has been widespread, repeated and consistent.

29. Upon information and belief, Defendants knew that the Named Plaintiffs and the Nationwide FLSA Collective Class performed work that required overtime pay. Defendants operated under a scheme to deprive these employees of overtime compensation by failing to properly compensate them for all hours worked.

30. Defendants' conduct, as set forth in this Complaint, was willful and in bad faith, and has caused significant damages to the Named Plaintiffs and the Nationwide FLSA Collective Class.

31. Defendants are liable under the FLSA for failing to properly compensate the Named Plaintiffs and the Nationwide FLSA Collective Class, and as such, notice should be sent to the Nationwide FLSA Collective Class. There are numerous similarly situated, current and former employees of Defendants who have been denied minimum wages, overtime pay and unpaid compensation due to time shaving, in violation of the FLSA who would benefit from the issuance of a Court supervised notice of the present lawsuit and the opportunity to join in the present lawsuit. Those similarly situated employees are known to Defendants and are readily identifiable through Defendants' records.

NEW YORK CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

32. The Named Plaintiffs bring the second claim for relief on their own behalf and as a class action pursuant to Rule 23 (a) and (b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. The New York Rule 23 Class is defined as:

All persons who worked for Defendants as a non-exempt employee, including cooks, line cooks, dish washers, food preparers, waiters, busboys, runners, barbacks and bartenders, in any of the David Burke Restaurants in the State of New York at any time from six years prior to the filing of this Complaint (the “New York Rule 23 Class” and the “New York Class Period,” respectively).

33. The persons in the New York Rule 23 Class identified above are so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. Although the precise number of such persons is unknown, upon information and belief, Defendants have employed at least 100 persons who satisfy the definition of the New York Class.

34. There are questions of law and fact common to this New York Rule 23 Class that predominate over any questions solely affecting individual members of the New York Rule 23 Class, including but not limited to:

- a) Whether Defendants employed the Named Plaintiffs and the New York Rule Class within the meaning of the New York law;
- b) What are and were the policies; practices, programs, procedures, protocols and plans of Defendants regarding the types of work and labor for which Defendants did not pay the New York Rule 23 Class members at all;
- c) At what common rate, or rates subject to common methods of calculation, were and are Defendants required to pay the New York Rule 23 Class members for their work;
- d) Whether Defendants failed to properly compensate the Named Plaintiff and New York Rule 23 Class members for all their hours worked due to a policy of time shaving and failing to correctly track the hours worked by the Named Plaintiff and New York Rule 23 Class members; and

- e) Whether Defendants failed to properly compensate the Named Plaintiff and New York Rule 23 Class members for their proper overtime premium for all hours worked over 40;
- f) Whether Defendants were entitled to take a tip credit;
- g) Whether Defendants paid the Named Plaintiffs and the New York Rule 23 Class “Spread of Hours” on days when their workday exceeded ten hours.

35. The Named Plaintiffs’ claims are typical of those of the New York Rule 23 Class. The Named Plaintiffs, like other members of the New York Rule 23 Class, were subjected to Defendants’ policy and practice of failing to pay the lawful minimum wage, time shaving, refusal to pay overtime pay and spread of hours premium in violation of New York law.

36. The Named Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the New York Rule 23 Class, and have retained counsel experienced in complex wage and hour class and collective action litigation.

37. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy – particularly in the context of the wage and hour litigation where individual class members lack the financial resources to vigorously prosecute a lawsuit against corporate defendants. Class action treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons to prosecute common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently, and without the unnecessary duplication of efforts and expense that numerous individual actions engender. Because of losses, injuries and damages suffered by each of the individual Class members are small in the sense pertinent to a class action analysis, the expenses and burden of individual litigation would make it extremely difficult or impossible for the individual Class members to redress the wrongs done to them. On the other hand, important public interests will be served by addressing the matter as a class action. The adjudication of individual litigation claims would result in a great expenditure of Court and public resources; however, treating the claims as a class action would result in a significant saving of these costs. The prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Class would create a risk of inconsistent and/or varying adjudications with respect to the individual members of the Class, establishing incompatible standards of conduct for Defendant and resulting in the impairment of class members' rights and the disposition of their interests through actions to which they were not parties. The issues in this action can be decided by means of common, class-wide proof. In addition, if appropriate, the Court can, and is empowered to, fashion methods to efficiently manage this action as a class action.

38. Class certification of the second claim for relief is appropriate pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(2) because Defendants have acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the New York Rule 23 Class, thereby making appropriate declaratory and injunctive relief. The New York Rule 23 Class is also entitled to injunctive relief to end Defendants' common and uniform practice of failing to compensate its employees for all work performed for the benefit of Defendants.

39. Class certification of the second claim for relief is also appropriate under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23 (b)(3) because questions of law and fact common to the New York Rule 23 Class predominate over any questions affecting only individual members of the New York Rule 23 Class, and because a class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this litigation. Defendants' common and uniform policies and practices denied the New York Rule 23 Class wages to which they are entitled. The damages suffered by the individual New York Rule 23 Class members are small compared to the expense and burden of individual prosecution of this litigation. In addition, class certification is superior because it will obviate the need for unduly duplicative litigation that might result in inconsistent judgments about Defendants' practices.

40. The Named Plaintiffs intend to send notice to all members of the New York Rule 23 Class to the extent required by Rule 23.

47. 48. Defendants knew of and/or showed a willful disregard for the provisions of the FLSA as evidenced by their failure to compensate Named Plaintiffs and Nationwide FLSA Collective Class plaintiffs at the statutory rate of time and one-half for their hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week when Defendants knew or should have known such was due.

55. By the course of conduct set forth above, Defendants have violated the New York Labor Law, Article 19 §§ 650 et seq., and the supporting New York State Department of Labor Regulations, 12 N.Y.C.R.R. Part 142 (collectively, New York Labor Laws").

56. Defendants willfully violated Named Plaintiffs' and New York Rule 23 Class members' rights by failing to pay them (i) compensation due to time shaving, and (ii) overtime compensation at the rate of not less than one and one-half times the regular rate of pay for each hour worked in excess of forty hours in a workweek.

60. Due to the Defendants' New York Labor Law violations, Named Plaintiffs and New York Rule 23 Class members are entitled to recover from Defendants unpaid minimum wages, unpaid overtime, unpaid wages caused by time shaving, unpaid spread of hours premium, reasonable attorneys' fees, liquidated damages, statutory penalties and costs and disbursements of the action, pursuant to New York Labor Law.
